Petrópolis Group, which produces brands like a Crystal, Lokal, Itaipava, Black Princess, Petra, TNT Energy Drink and Blue Spirit added the longneck version of Blue Spirit Ice to their portfolio. Blue Spirit Ice will be distributed in restaurants, bars, nightclubs, wineries, delis, supermarkets and convenience stores. Cervejaria Petrópolis in Boituva/São Paulo started producing of Blue Spirit Ice in early August 2011. The syrup plant has been automated by KHS-Brazil using PLC Siemens S7-319 and PCS brewmaxx Liqu iT compact. As the third largest consumer of vodka ice in the world, behind only the United States and Great Britain, Brazil produced 40 million litres of beverages in 2011. Within the last five years the production of beverages rised by 135%.

The long standing Spanish company Ybarra, a specialist producer of olive oils, vinegar products, mayonnaise, tomato ketchup and salsa sauces, opened a new production facility in Dos Hermanas, near Seville, in 2008. Plant iT from ProLeiT was chosen as the process comprehensive batch traceability for enhanced quality assurance and its exceptional level of flexibility in terms of recipes. Due to the flexible – depending on the product – combinable process steps, the operator can quickly parameterize new recipes: without any loss of consistency in process control, quality or traceability.

A particular challenge of the project was the integration and coordination of the batch process in conjunction with continuous processes. The interaction of these two process types was automated perfectly with Plant iT, so Joaquín Ruiz Esquivel, technical department manager at Ybarra.
